Leesa Mercer, a young female engineer, reaches for success in the man's world of the offshore oil industry of the mid 1980's. The backdrop for her struggle includes blowouts, chauvinists, romance, trapped divers and violent confrontations between oil companies and environmentalists. The story's climax occurs when a major offshore construction project, managed by Leesa, meets both human and physical disaster. Leesa's challenge is to see if she can mature sufficiently to save a situation, a construction crew and a community who depend on her leadership.

New York Times bestselling author Cathy Maxwell's glittering Marrying the Duke series continues—Twice he has been close to the altar and still no duchess. Will the third time be the charm? A duke can't marry just anyone. His wife must be of good family, be fertile, be young. Struggling playwright Sarah Pettijohn is absolutely the last woman Gavin Whitridge, Duke of Baynton, would ever fall in love with. She is an actress, born on the wrong side of the blanket, and always challenges his ducal authority. She never hesitates to tell him what she thinks. However, there is something about her that stirs his blood . . . which makes her perfect for a bargain he has in mind: In exchange for backing her play, he wants Sarah to teach him about love. And he, in turn, has a few things to teach her about men . . .

Where To Download Rov Doent

Fate, Love, Tears delivers on its promise to excite as it delves into the chaotic and all too familiar world of first love. The two voices of Allebrielle and Rob alternate to paint a complete picture of the thrill and heartache they encounter while falling in love. The roller coaster ride of high school and family drama is just the start for the young lovers, as their naivete is put to the test in the face of illness, death, and deception.
