"When I'm Sixty-Four" is a song by the English rock band the Beatles, written by Paul McCartney and released on their 1967 album Sgt. Pepper's Lonely Hearts Club Band. It was one of the first songs written by McCartney, who wrote it when he was 16. The song was recorded in a different key than the final recording; it was sped up at the request of McCartney to make his voice sound younger. It prominently features a trio of clarinets throughout.

The music for this song was written by Paul McCartney when he was about 15 or 16 years old. The Quarrymen (the previous name of The Beatles) played it on piano during their performance at Cavern Club. The lyrics were written later in 1966, and some say that it's not a coincidence that McCartney's father turned 64 earlier that year.
